BAILEY WOULD LIKE TO BE THE BOSS IN TEXAS

Former Senator Characterized as Headlight Among Fireflies.

Houston, Tex., March 2.—(N. E. A. Staff Special.)—Joe Bailey, ex-senator, has two purposes in announcing his candidacy for governor of Texas. First, he wants to get control of the state government. Second, he wants to capture the forty delegates to the national convention.

Bailey, senator, who resigned because he found himself out of line with the progressiveness of the democratic party, who was investigated for his connections with a big oil concern, looks up in mental and political strength like an electric headlight in a bunch of fireflies. His recent political pronouncements are, if possible, more reactionary than those of old.

He is openly before the people in an effort to turn popular tendencies to reaction. It would be folly to minimize Bailey's strength in Texas.

There has been a big turning away from the national administration in Texas in the past year, or since the war orator cooled. It would be rash to say Texas will swing into the republican ranks, but republicans are making great plans for a campaign. The presidential primaries are but two months away. Not a single democrat has so far presented himself in Texas. Interest in Texas in democratic national politics is at low ebb.

Many Texans think there is one way out for the national party. That is to purge itself of all the politicians who have disgraced the party and take a new man like Herbert Hoover, write a new set of constructive policies into a platform and appeal both to the democratic and independent vote.

MEXICO ASKS DETAILS OF RAID ON MONTANA CAMP

Mexico City, March 2.—Full information regarding the raid of Mexicans on Montana, on the afternoon of Friday, February 27, has been requested by the Mexican government. Nothing, however, was given out yesterday regarding the incident in which John A. and Alexander Fraser, brothers, were killed. It was unofficially stated, however, that the United States troops had crossed the border in pursuit of American soldiers crossing into Nogales, Sonora, occurred late last week when two Americans who had crossed the international line in search of liquor were fired upon by Mexican soldiers. The affair resulted in the deaths of one Mexican guard and one American.

LEWISTON WOMAN IS SO WELL AND HAPPY

Mrs. Alice McCluskey Says She Wishes She Had Heard Of Tanlac Twenty Years Ago—Would Have Saved Her Lots of Suffering.

"I have been trying for twenty long years to find a medicine that would overcome my troubles, but my efforts failed me completely until I commenced taking Tanlac," was the remarkable statement made recently by Mrs. Alice McCluskey, residing at No. 66 Park Street, Lewiston, Me., a well-known and most highly respected woman of that city.

"I just feel like I would give the world to meet everyone who suffers as I did and tell them about this medicine. If I could only have gotten Tanlac twenty years ago it would have saved me a lot of suffering and money."

"My principal trouble was indigestion, and for many years I could not eat meat or pastry, for I would always suffer afterward. I would most always have a distressed feeling after eating and nothing seemed to agree with me. Then, to add to the real of my suffering, I contracted rheumatism in my shoulders and hips, and the awful pains I suffered can never be told in words. This trouble finally got so bad I could hardly walk and my arms pained me so I could scarcely raise my hands to my head. I even had to give up my housework and was hardly able to get around at all."

"You can imagine how happy I was when, after taking only a few bottles of Tanlac, I found such a wonderful improvement in my condition! Why, it was just the medicine I needed all the time, and I continued taking it until now I am perfectly well again. I can truthfully say that I am enjoying as good health now as I ever had in all my life. I have gained about 15 pounds in weight and can again do all my housework without the least trouble. I don't get tired like I did, and after doing my work I can get out and walk for blocks and feel just when I get back home. I earnestly advise everyone who suffers as I did to take Tanlac."

Mrs. Alice McCluskey, Well-Known Lewiston, Maine, Woman.

Tanlac is sold in Chattanooga by Morrison's three drug stores.—(Adv.)

WAIVE GERMAN WAR INDEMNITY?

Italian Premier Said to Have Advocated This Step in Council of Premiers.

BIG LOAN TO GERMANS

(BY EARL E. REEVES.)
London, March 2.—Premier Nitti, of Italy, is said to have advocated to the council of premiers the waiving of Germany's war indemnity, the Times stated today.

The Times indicated that the reported attitude of the Italian premier may have a place in the manifesto on European economic conditions which the council of premiers is preparing for publication.

Sir Auckland Geddes, the new British ambassador to the United States, revealed today that the allies are sanctioning an international loan to Germany.

This loan will be used for the purpose of putting Germany on her feet economically. Germany's liability for payment of the loan is to take precedence over the payment of reparations (war indemnity).

This decision by the allies is understood to be part of the general plan for the rehabilitation of Europe, which the council of premiers has been considering here for the past few days.

Revelation of the allies' intention to float the loan was made by Auckland Geddes in the course of a speech at a luncheon given by Viscountess Astor to the British ambassador.

The council of premiers has taken action on two big questions while Premier Millerand of France was in London, and it is said that the allies are now ready to take action on the third.

Second—Economic assistance to Germany.

Starting Departures.
Both are startling departures in the way of revision of the original terms of the treaty of peace and they have for their aim the admission of Russia and Germany into world affairs once more.

The return of Premier Millerand from Paris is anxiously awaited, as France is expected to vigorously oppose such action as the council evidently is contemplating.

The Daily Telegraph in commenting upon the trend of the events, concludes that France will continue to oppose any scheme for the lightening of Germany's burden.

Fifteen more defendants in the Newberry case go free.

Judge Sessions Also Dismisses Fifth Count in Indictment.

Defense Jubilant.

Grand Rapids, Mich., March 2.—Judge Sessions this morning freed fifteen more defendants in the Newberry election conspiracy case.

Fifteen more defendants were discharged by Judge Sessions in the Newberry election conspiracy trial today.

The fifth count of the indictment was also dismissed. This was the one which charged the defendants with conspiracy to defraud the state of Michigan.

Those discharged today were: Christian Brook, Muskegon; Alfred P. Crawford, Breckenridge; Fred E. Drick, Muskegon; John W. Dunn, Standish; Benjamin Gero, Manistee; Alex C. Green, Alpena; John Jones, Ontonagon; Daniel C. Lavish, Jackson; Wm. E. Lewis, Hart; Samuel Odell, Lansing; John C. Rittenhouse, Chubbuck; James Swain, Coldwater; Lora L. Thompson, Allegan; Arthur F. Wenz, Alpena; Paul Woodworth, Bad Ax.

Twenty-three defendants had been previously discharged from the court.

Judge Sessions denied defense motions for dismissal of counts three and six of the indictment. He then permitted the prosecution to move for a directed verdict as to all the defendants, as he would deny it.

Judge Sessions took both actions on his own motion. He said that a "very close attention to the prosecution's evidence and a careful study of the evidence" had convinced him that he would be unwarranted in holding the men named for a jury verdict. He directed the jury to enter a formal verdict of "not guilty" in the fifteen cases.

Mr. Littleton started to present the motion outlined yesterday and directed against three of the six counts in the indictment. Judge Sessions halted him momentarily and said that unless the government objected he would rule out the fifth count at once.

M'ADOO FAVORS BUYING ISLANDS

Giving England Credit on War Debt—Novel Way to Reduce Taxes.

WOULD STABILIZE TAXES

(BY DAVID LAWRENCE.)
Washington, March 2.—(Copyrighted for The Chattanooga News.)—William Gibbs McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, is in town for a little while, presumably to nurse along his political boom.

Having dealt with matters of taxation, it is natural that he should be found discussing ways of reducing taxes. And the most novel suggestion he makes is that the United States shall buy several British colonies, such as the Bermudas, Jamaica, British Honduras, Barbados, the Bahamas, Nassau and other islands off the Atlantic coast of this continent.

In payment, Mr. McAdoo declares the United States should give Great Britain credit on her war debt to us. This, he believes, will help Great Britain and ourselves, because it will tend to stabilize foreign exchange and mean an earlier settlement of the European debt.

It is hard to estimate what the price of islands is on the market, but the United States purchased the Danish West Indies for $25,000. Of course the British possessions are much more valuable than that.

The price might be calculated on the basis of exports and imports, and some of the British possessions are worth a good deal. Jamaica, for instance, is a very valuable island, though its rum isn't particularly useful at this time.

On the whole, the United States could find $1,000,000,000 worth of value in some of these islands without much trouble and get it back in commodities in a short time.

But were it not for the principle enunciated by the distinguished father-in-law of Mr. McAdoo, namely, the principle of self-determination, it would be easy to get the proposition going, for it is said that British sentiment is not a bit adverse to discussion of the matter.

What, for instance, would be the opinion of peoples in the Bermudas, Bahamas and so on about being annexed to dry land?

Seriously speaking, there has been an annexation movement in some of these British islands for some time. They have wanted to be annexed to the United States for various reasons, mostly commercial advantages growing out of geographical proximity.

But the advantages of prohibition have not been able to sway the sentiment. Perhaps the islands could be gotten ready for annexation only after some of the antiprohibition sentiment had been able to sway the sentiment.

McAdoo, however, sees the question purely as to its bearing on financial relations between the British empire and the United States. Says Mr. McAdoo:

"It is highly desirable, both on our own account and that of our allies, that the settlement of our loans to our allies be rendered as quick and as easy as possible. Our chief debt is, of course, Great Britain, and this is naturally out of the fact that Great Britain has liberally pledged her credit to sustain the efforts of our allies."

"Now, for the past 100 years, Great Britain has held certain islands in and near our shores, Jamaica, the Bahamas, Barbados, Nassau, British Honduras, the Bermudas, and other islands off our south Atlantic coast. These British possessions, so long held by a friendly maritime power, do not jeopardize the security of the Atlantic and Gulf coast of the United States."

"The process of time we are becoming the leading economic power in the world and have developed the Panama canal and a navy and merchant marine which make these islands more than ever important to us. Might it not be possible to work out a plan by which England's debt to us could be reduced by the transfer to us of certain British possessions in the western hemisphere the extent of their value?"

"The British empire at this moment comprises one-sixth of the land area of the whole world. And, according to British economic experts, the surplus capital of the mother country will for many years to come be expended in the development of the agricultural and mineral resources of the great self-governing dominions and of India."

"I imagine that Great Britain would not object to such a disposition of these islands, especially as they would go to a friendly power. I see nothing in such a proposal to offend the just pride of a great people, whereas such liquidation of a portion of the British debt might be a happy solution of a part of Great Britain's immediate financial problem."

Inquiry among British correspondence of the national capital leads to the conclusion that the matter would not be unfavorably received in Great Britain were it not for the fact that British policy is for the present, inseparably interwoven with what happens to the league of nations and proposals for naval disarmament.

Yet, if international disarmament is to be put into effect through the league of nations, Great Britain would have to give up her naval station at the Cape of Good Hope and her tendency of American naval men is reflected in statements made by Rear Admiral Bagley and concurred in by other members of the general naval board to the effect that the United States should have the "largest navy in the world."

It is hard to say whether this is a direct consequence of the discouraging fate of the latest efforts at international co-operation of the use of rivalry which naval men of about other navies.

Anyway, so long as naval expansion continues on both sides of the Atlantic, Mr. McAdoo's suggestion depends for its acceptance by the British on elimination of valuable naval bases, not to mention the opportunity that must be afforded to residents of the British colonies to say how they feel about keeping their islands entirely surrounded by waters or annexed to dry land.

But the advantages of prohibition have not been able to sway the sentiment. Perhaps the islands could be gotten ready for annexation only after some of the antiprohibition sentiment had been able to sway the sentiment.

McAdoo, however, sees the question purely as to its bearing on financial relations between the British empire and the United States. Says Mr. McAdoo:

"It is highly desirable, both on our own account and that of our allies, that the settlement of our loans to our allies be rendered as quick and as easy as possible. FARMERS OF GEORGIA AGAINST HOOVER

Atlanta, Ga., March 2.—In an interview last night Charles S. Barrett, president of the National Farmers' union, who has just completed a trip through Georgia and Florida, declared the farmers of Georgia "will not stand for Herbert Hoover for president."

"If he should be nominated by either party, the nomination would be met everywhere in the west by a simple cry of 'Hoover' and in the south by the simple cry of 'cotton' or 'cottonseed' and what it would do for him would be a plenty."

"I think I know the sentiment of the country people of Georgia, and if I know anything in the world I know they are not for Hoover."
